"A must and trademark in every corner of the Ottoman empire. The preparation up to the serving of Turkish coffe e has a character of its own. G ood Turkish coffee should be made in a copper cezve (a small pot that's used to simm er the coffee) to ensure the prime taste and quality of the coffee. The thick and frothy consistency of the coffee is del icious and something that you should try when you visit Turkey. The Turkish coffee is typically served with water to help cleanse your palate ready for the strong taste of the coffee."
